PROJECTS

OTAKUFLIX   (Rails, ReactJS, AWS, CSS, HTML, Redux)   live | github
A Netflix inspired website specializing in anime.
- Ensured speed and low load times by using Amazon Web Services S3 (AWS) to store videos and images for global access.
- Created a more interactive user experience when handling a library of videos by implementing Redux and HTML5 media web components.
- Fortified user privacy using react-router-dom for frontend and BCrypt library for backend authentication giving logged-in users access to site features such as the ability to save favorite shows for easier look-up.

WHATFLIX   (Rails, ReactJS, mongoDB, express, css)   live | github
A movie database related MERN Stack project
- Dynamically implemented a movie database API to allow for automatic updates of latest movie releases on the main browse page.
- Leveraged React Hooks to help feature an infinite auto-scroll giving the user an endless list of movies.
- Implemented User Auth to allow for a user to both create and login to a personal account.
